Busy Bees

Aside from our continued work on acquisitions and preservation, the Historical Society has kept busy this year. We participated in the Cuisine on the Green this spring with our table of baked goods. At our Spring Garden Party at the Cline residence in May we hosted over 60 people who toured the magnificent hillside garden and enjoyed the sumptuous buffet prepared by fellow Board member, Katie Broomhead. Proceeds from both events allowed us to increase our Scholarship Fund.

Lexie Cox

Earlene Folsom

Hosts: Celeste Washington, and Christine Ruppe

Recently, Board Member Celeste Washington organized an oral history tea at her home with guests of honor, the Moreland sisters, Earlene Sally and Lexie. The Morelands have been a part of Stinson Beach since the early 1930s and had many memories to share with us. We learned about convalescing WWII soldiers being brought into barracks built near where our GGNR parking lot is now situated; and how the town's residents welcomed them

A Note from Marcus White

This is my fourth year as President of the Stinson Beach Historical Society. While I wish more time and energy were available to accomplish everything we plan to achieve, it is due to a dedicated and heroic group of volunteers that everything we do is such an enjoyable experience. Many thanks to them!

I hope all of you can join us for the annual Holiday Luncheon this year on Dec.7th at the Community Center. Come and meet Wendi Joiner, our new doctor at the Stinson Beach Health Clinic. We're happy to have her here and wish her the very best.

Our honored guest this year will be Marion Weber. Over the many years I have known her, Marion has been an advocate and guardian for the environment. She was instrumental in establishing the Bolinas-Stinson Beach Community Fund, which has been an invaluable resource for numerous local organizations and individuals. Even though Marion will be closing her wonderful shop, Healing Arts, on Dec.12th, I hope she will continue to be a strong voice in our community for years to come.

Once again, come to the Holiday Luncheon. We are delighted to have KT's Kitchen prepare the tasty food, from appetizers to turkey with all the trimmings and dessert. Al Engel will have his famous punch for us again, and Jon Francis and Joe Veit will provide us with music.

*We thank Dawn Damas Harris, Beth Carusillo and Diane Scott for rescheduling their class times so we could host our luncheon.

into their homes for Saturday dinners. These and other stories will soon be transcribed and added to our Archival collection available to everyone.

Now, we are looking forward to our 2012 holiday lunch and seeing you all again. Please fill out the form on the back and return to us as soon as possible.
